Tutoring Experience

Since completing my PGCE in 2006, I have worked extensively in both state and private sector schools in the UAE. My expertise lies in teaching physics across various levels, including GCSE, IGCSE, and A-Level, with a focus on preparing students for competitive examinations.

Over the past 17 years, I have also incorporated online tutoring, engaging students with interactive tools to reinforce key concepts. I have supported learners in mastering advanced topics like radioactivity, astrophysics, and thermal physics, ensuring they are well-equipped for both exams and further studies.
