Tutoring Experience

I have been tutoring English for four years, working with students at GCSE, IB, and A-Level standards. My experience includes guiding students through exam preparation for GCSE English Language and Literature, helping them build confidence in writing, comprehension, and critical analysis. I've also supported students with essay writing and personal statement reviews for university applications.

Additionally, I have worked with students from international schools, tailoring lessons to meet the unique demands of their curricula, including IB and A-Level coursework. My work often focuses on refining their ability to articulate ideas effectively, ensuring success in exams and beyond.
