

Eunice ★★★★★ Reviews

Hire a tutor

🎓 Experienced Tutor | University of Chicago | PhD in History

I completed my PhD in History at the University of Chicago and an MPhil in World History at Columbia University. With 14 years of teaching experience, I focus on GCSE, IB, and A-Level History, exploring periods from medieval times to the modern era, helping students thrive academically.

Teaches: GCSE History IB History A-Level History

Curriculum: GCSE IB A-Level

Qualifications

University of Chicago: PhD in History (2009–2014)

Columbia University: MPhil in World History (2007–2009)

University of Michigan: BA in History (2003–2007)

Vetted Tutor

Personally Interviewed

Our tutors go through a rigorous selection process, having been interviewed to assess their teaching skills and subject knowledge. They have extensive tutoring experience with a track record of success, helping students achieve their academic goals.

Tutoring Experience

I began tutoring history in 2009 while completing my doctoral studies and have since guided students at various levels, from high school to postgraduate. My focus includes essay writing, source analysis, and preparing students for GCSE, IB, and A-Level exams. Over the years, I've helped numerous students develop their analytical skills and historical insight.

As a former supervisor for undergraduate history students, I've supported research projects and dissertations, particularly in areas such as the World Wars, the Renaissance, and the Cold War. My tutoring also extends to assisting IB and A-Level students with university applications, including Oxbridge and Ivy League entrances, helping craft personal statements and admissions essays.

In addition to teaching traditional curricula, I've worked with students on specialised topics such as postcolonial studies, history of science, and the development of modern political systems. My sessions are tailored to each student's needs, ensuring comprehensive understanding and academic success in history.