Tutoring Experience

In the past 4 years, I've worked with students preparing for GCSE and IGCSE Physics exams, focusing on concepts like mechanics and thermodynamics. My experience includes helping students from different international schools understand complex physics topics and gain confidence in their problem-solving abilities.

Additionally, I have supported students aiming for higher-level qualifications like A-Level and IB Physics. My tutoring sessions are tailored to each curriculum, ensuring students are well-prepared for assessments while building a solid foundation in Physics for future studies.
